

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

- ◆ ZOMBOR BEREZVAI is the Head of the Competition Economics and Market Research Section at the Hungarian Competition Authority, junior research fellow at the Centre for Economic and Regional Studies and assistant lecturer at Corvinus University of Budapest. He obtained his BA and MA in Economics degrees from Corvinus University of Budapest and Eötvös Loránd University, respectively. He started his career at the Supply Chain Finance area of Procter & Gamble and began his Ph.D. studies in 2016. His research interest includes empirical industrial organization studies particularly in the agriculture and retail sector, education economics with a focus on grade inflation, and transportation research with an emphasis on bicycle sharing systems. Email: berezvai.zombor@krtk.mta.hu
- ◆ VIVIEN CSONKA is a Senior Analyst at Compass Lexecon, based in London. She has several years of experience in competition economics, having previously worked at the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) and the Hungarian Competition Authority (GVH). Vivien has been involved in a number of high-profile cases relating to a range of competition matters. Vivien holds a Master's Degree in Specialized Economic Analysis (Competition and Market Regulation Program) from Barcelona Graduate School of Economics. E-mail: csonka.vivi@gmail.com
- ◆ GERGELY CSORBA is a competition economist, Partner at Infrapont Economic Consulting. He finished his Master studies at the Budapest University of Economic Sciences and at the University of Toulouse, and received his PhD degree in Economics from the Central European University. His research interests are on theoretical and empirical Industrial Organization and Competition Policy, and published on these topics in international journals (Journal of Industrial Economics, International Journal of Industrial Organization, among others). He also served as the Chief Economist of the Hungarian Competition Authority (GVH) from 2006 till 2012. Since 2005, he has been a researcher at the Institute of Economics. Email: gergely.csorba@infrapont.hu.
- ◆ BORBÁLA TÜNDE DÖMÖTÖRFY is a manager of Réti, Várszegi & Partners PwC Legal Law Firm. She graduated from Pázmány Péter Catholic University in 2011, currently her PhD studies are on-going at the same university. Borbála pursued legal studies at Radboud University in Nijmegen as well as at the University of Paris (XI.) Sud, and earned an LL.M. degree at the Université de Liège in Belgium. She currently studies economics at the University of London via distance learning. Borbála has previously acquired professional experience at the legal department of a multinational company, at the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission, as an investigator in the Antitrust Office of the Hungarian Competition Authority and at the competition law department of an international law firm. She is primarily focused on competition law, but her work also involves consumer protection, data protection and other regulatory matters. Email: domotorfy.borbala@gmail.com

- JUDIT FIRNIKSZ started her professional career at the Hungarian Competition Authority. Spending almost a decade there, Judit worked as a competition policy analyst, as an investigator and as head of department. Since 2006, she has been a senior attorney of Réti, Várszegi & Partners PwC Legal Law Firm, with an expertise on the fields of competition law, consumer protection, advertising law, commercial law and data protection. She has acquired proficiency regarding the special regulation of the commercial sectors of FMCG goods and pharmaceutical products. Judit received a master's degree at the Budapest University of Economics and earned an LL.M degree in corporate and business law at the Eötvös Loránd University of Sciences. As a reaction to the new challenges also emerging in the daily practice, she has recently turned her attention towards online markets and digitalized market solutions. Judit pursues PhD studies at the Doctoral School of Pázmány Péter Catholic University, with a research agenda set for analyzing the effects of artificial intelligence, Big Data and digitalization on competition policy and competition law enforcement. Email: firniksz@gmail.com
- TÜNDE GÖNCZÖL graduated at the law school of Eötvös Loránd University in Hungary. She worked for the Hungarian Competition Authority between 1998 and 2005 and afterwards she was the Legal and Regulatory Director at a Swedish telecom company. Since 2007, she is an associate of Dentons Réczicza Ügyvédi Iroda (previously Réczicza White & Case LLP), co-heading the Competition & Antitrust practice group. She is a member of the Budapest Bar. She was a lecturer at Rajk László Szakkollégium and Széchenyi István Szakkollégium. She is a member of the advisory board to the periodical Infokommunikáció és Jog. Email: Tunde.Gonczol@dentons.com
- BARNABÁS SÁNDOR KISS has been working at Réti, Várszegi & Partners PwC Legal Law Firm since 2017. He has an experience in the fields of competition law, tax law and litigation. Barnabás graduated as an economist from the Corvinus University of Budapest with a master's degree in development of enterprises, and received a summa cum laude diploma in law at the Eötvös Loránd University of Sciences. Currently he is a PhD student, his subject being the actions for annulment before the Court of Justice of the European Union. Barnabás previously worked at Brussels and Paris law firms at the commercial and competition law departments. Email: barnabas.kiss93@gmail.com
- PETER KOTEK graduated in 2009 at the Corvinus University of Budapest as an economist, majoring in market analysis. He joined REKK (Regional Centre for Energy Policy Research at Corvinus University) in the same year as a research associate. From 2015, he is working as a senior research associate. His areas of interest are ancillary services market in electricity, LNG and gas storage markets. He has participated actively in REKK's gas market modelling work since 2015. Email: peter.kotek@rekk.hu

- SURD KOVÁTS is a lead supervisor in the European Central Bank. Mr Kováts has been working in the European System of Financial Supervision since 2012, first as an expert in EIOPA dealing with insurance and occupational pension markets, and since 2014 in banking supervision at the Single Supervisory Mechanism of the ECB. He is a part-time lecturer for the department of Private International Law and European Law at the Law Faculty of the ELTE University Budapest. Mr Kováts completed his finance studies at the Budapest University of Economic Sciences, his legal studies at ELTE University; he also obtained a postgraduate LL.M. degree from the University of Regensburg, and a PhD from ELTE University. He worked for the Hungarian Competition Authority between 2002 and 2012, first as an investigator, then as a Head of Section, with a primary focus on financial markets. Email: Surd.Kovats@ecb.europa.eu, Kovats.Surd@gmail.com
- CSONGOR ISTVÁN NAGY, Dr. Juris, LL.M., Ph.D., S.J.D., is Braudel senior research fellow at the European University Institute (Florence), professor of law and department head at the University of Szeged, research chair at the Center for Social Sciences of the Eötvös Loránd Research Network and recurrent visiting professor at the Central European University and the Sapientia University of Transylvania. The research for this article was supported by the project nr. EFOP-3.6.2-16-2017-00007, titled Aspects on the development of intelligent, sustainable and inclusive society: social, technological, innovation networks in employment and digital economy. The project has been supported by the European Union, co-financed by the European Social Fund and the budget of Hungary. Email: csongor.nagy@gmail.com
- PÉTER NAGY senior consultant and partner of Infracapont, completed his MA studies at the Budapest University of Economic Studies. He took part in several consultancy projects for the Hungarian Telecommunications Regulator and for telecommunications operators. He also has experience in other network industries, such as the electricity and the postal sector, and has been taking part in projects related to competition cases. His key areas comprise market analysis, impact assessment price regulation, economic preparation of legal regulation, business planning, and market modelling. Email: peter.nagy@infracapont.hu.
- ZOLTÁN PÁPAI partner and CEO of Infracapont Economic Consulting, completed his Master and doctoral studies at the Budapest University of Economic Studies. He has been working as a regulatory and competition economist since the beginning of the nineties. Zoltán has expertise in the regulation of the network industries and also in competition economics. He took part as an expert in the liberalisation in the network industries and setting up new regulatory systems, mobile licence and spectrum auctions, market analyses, impact assessments, merger cases and provided expert support in court cases. Besides consultancy work, he is involved in applied economic research concerning market power and competition issues in different markets. Email: zoltan.papai@infracapont.hu.

- ◆ ADRIENN SELEI has been working for REKK (Regional Centre for Energy Policy Research at Corvinus University) since 2011. She worked for the Hungarian Transmission System Operator as a market analyst before joining REKK. Her work especially includes gas market modelling (infrastructure modelling and CBA analysis), but she has been also involved in different works in the field of electricity markets (mainly analysing balancing markets and topics of market integration). Email: adrienn.selei@rekk.hu
- ◆ GÁBOR SZABÓ is an economist, working as senior advisor at Infrapont Kft. since 2018. Mr Szabó has completed his university studies at the Budapest University of Economic Sciences. He worked in the Hungarian Competition Authority between 2002 and 2018, first as an analyst at the Competition Policy Section, then as a case-handler in the Network Industries Section, and finally as Deputy and Head of Section at the Antitrust Section. Mr Szabó has a long-standing experience in economic analysis of competition cases, both in the field of antitrust and mergers. His main areas are telecommunication and energy markets, complemented with other regulated and non-regulated industries. Email: Gabor.Szabo@infrapont.hu
- ◆ BORBÁLA TAKÁCSNÉ TÓTH has worked with REKK (Regional Centre for Energy Policy Research at Corvinus University) since its creation in 2004. With REKK she has been leading several international and national consultancy projects, with many using the European Gas Market Model as the primary analytic tool. Her main fields of expertise include: regional co-operations; security of supply issues; energy geopolitics; major infrastructure initiatives in the gas sector and incentives for investments; competition cases in the gas market; storage and LNG markets. Before joining REKK she spent 5 years as a civil servant in government administration mostly in the field of energy regulation. Email: borbala.toth@rekk.hu
- ◆ PÁL VALENTINY emeritus research fellow. He was head of IO studies at the Institute of Economics, Centre for Economic and Regional Studies of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in Budapest. His principal interests lie in the theory of regulated markets, regulation and privatization of network utilities and economic aspects of competition policy. His teaching experience covers several universities and colleges. He was adviser to the Hungarian Communication Authority (1995–2003) and to the Hungarian Railways (1997–2002) on regulatory and restructuring issues. He has provided assistance to the Hungarian Competition Authority in economic aspects of competition policy issues. He was member of the Board of Directors at the Hungarian Power Companies Ltd (1994–1998) and the Budapest Gas Company Ltd (1993–2007). He has advised the Budapest Municipality on privatization strategies. As expert witness he was involved in judicial reviews of regulatory decisions in telecommunication. Email: valentiny.pal@krtk.mta.hu.